10 Practice Tests with Worksheets

for UIL and PSIA contests

Written by
Jennifer King & Shannon Ament

Edited by
Linda Tarrant, Keisha Bedwell, & Jennifer King

This book mimics the Creative Writing Contest's style and format of the Texas Interscholastic League (UIL) and Private Schools Interscholastic Association (PSIA). Note that, while both contests present five pictured and labeled items, each contest may vary slightly, and, like most contests, the format and judging criteria can change over time. We recommend that you read all material provided by your respective contest's website to help your student better understand what is expected of them in this contest. If you are a parent, we encourage you to take the time to communicate with your participating child's coach or teacher for general contest tips or with help in identifying your child's strengths and weaknesses in writing. Overall, you will find this contest to be encouraging and supportive of aspiring young writers, many of whom go on to compete in Ready Writing, Editorial Writing, Spelling, and more!

We are a small company that listens! If you have any questions or if there is an area that you would like fully explored, let us hear from you. We hope you enjoy this product and stay in contact with us throughout your academic journey.

Character Exercise No. 1

The characters in your story are very important. Making them interesting will keep the reader wanting to know more about them. Your goal is to describe your characters so well that the reader can picture them in their mind.

Describe the character below. Remember to use interesting words!

Character's Name:

What is the character's personality?

What does the character look like?

What does the character do?
