The First 15 includes five practice problems for each of the 15 topics, one for each level of competition: Invitational A, Invitational B, District, Region, and State! Classroom Invitationals are the same tests that are given on any of our 12 official hosted test dates but are sent to you two weeks later to keep tests used for hosted meets unique and unseen. Classroom invitationals can only be administered to students who attend your own school.

READY WRITING (H)

Be a Better Writer and Still Be Yourself!

Ready to Write Handbook by former UIL Academic Director Bobby Hawthorne is a no-nonsense handbook for serious Ready Writing contestants and coaches! Packed with sound advice and useful tips, Ready to Write shows how a professional writer approaches and digests a high school Ready Writing prompt and organizes notes to develop the 1st, 2nd, and final drafts. Gain a clear picture of what constitutes 'good' and 'bad' writing in the eyes of most judges through practical (and occasionally humorous) writing samples and commentary. Hawthorne illustrates how he edits his own writing and addresses the use of jargon, slang, clichés, redundancy, verb and noun agreement, and even how to 'be yourself' when writing. Get this 'insider's look' at how to produce a 'winning' essay and a compelling piece that can earn the respect and votes of the judges!

'FOCUS?' While there may be slight overlap in Social Studies Focus and Core Concepts books for good measure, Focus is the only book that is updated on an annual basis to reflect the current year's curriculum.

SPELLING (H) (A)

Spelling eMentor - Grades 3-12!

Engage your 3rd-12th grade students with UIL Spelling eMentor! Type in the word to learn all the word spellings found in the 2019-20 annual lists. Then, students type in the word. Spelling eMentor contains the same information as our Spelling Complement book (on next page) but allows students to practice the spelling of words. Each student gets his or her own login and password, which is set up by the coach or teacher inside the coach account once your order is processed. Look for email confirmation and login link once your order is placed and your product is activated. PRICES FOR ADDITIONAL LICENSES ARE AVAILABLE ONLINE.
